Tub Culture

WATER LILIES

Have a lily pool, either a cement pool or tubs; expose to full sunlight. Plant lilies in rich dirt and bone-meal, as this will produce fine blossoms. Water Lilies should be planted in 2 to 3 feet of water.

Hardy Water Lilies

JAMES BRYDON, a superb lily, rosy red, free bloomer. $2.00.

CROMOTELLA, large free blooming yellow with spotted leaves. $1.25.

CONQUERER, a large red lily, very free flowering. $2.25 each.

NYMPHEA MARLIAC ROSE, fine pink. $1.25.

NYMPHEA MARLIAC ALBA, white, large bulbs. Bulbs, $1.00; small, 75c.

NYMPHEA MARLIAC FLESH, faint pink. 75c.

These Lilies are acclimated and therefore will give the greatest satisfaction. The hardy ones can be left in the pool in the winter.

PAUL HERRIOT, a wonderful lily, coppery pink, very hardy, $1.50.

GOLDFISH, 25c up. Extra large breeders, 75c to $1.00. By express only.

Aquatic Plants

PARROT FEATHER, green feathery trailing plant, valuable for the fish to spawn on. 3 for 50c.

VELVET LEAVES, erect plant, flowers straw color; leaves velvety. 50c.

WATER POPPY, the leaves float on the water, flowers yellow; an ever-bloomer. 25c each.

WATER CALLA, like a Calla lily but smaller blossoms. 25c.

ARROW HEAD, double flowering. 75c.

WATER HYACINTH. 25c each, five for $1.00.

UMBRELLA PALM. 25c.

Plants to Grow Around Pool

PAMPAS GRASS. Two kinds, low or tall growing. 40c. BAMBOO. 50c clump.

CAT TAILS. 25c, fine for swampy or shallow places.

AGAVA, striped or plain, century plant. 50c to $5.00.

NEW, EVER-BLOOMING IRIS, purple flowers; water only, from Japan. 50c.

CLEMATIS Duchess of Edinburgh, double white. 75c.

Choice Rockplants and Perennials

We recently bought a well-known grower's entire collection, one of the finest in U. S., and the prices are reasonable; come and see our new Rock Gardens, one-quarter mile west of 12-mile corner, on Baseline Road.

A garden of perennials grows more beautiful year by year, and they present such an infinite variety in flower and plant that every taste can be suited. We are going to urge, if your space permits, that several plants of a sort be used in your garden (except the larger plants, where perhaps a single one may be very effective) rather than just one plant each of many kinds. We think you'll be better pleased with the results.

And please order and plant early if possible—early planting is one of the greatest factors of success. Besides, in some of the rarer things, stock is limited.

IMPORTANT

Unless the description specifies that a plant thrives best in shade or semi-shade, please understand that the preference is for a sunny location. The majority no need sun for best development.

An (R) will designate those especially suited to rock garden.

- ACAENA GLABRA, (R) A pretty little plant resembling a tiny rose-bush. More remarkable for foliage than flowers. 5 inches, 15c.
- ACAENA MICROPHYLIA, (R) Extremely attractive, with its spiny red burrs. 15c.
- ACHILLEA AGERATIFOLIA, (R) Rosettes of silver gray foliage, hugging the ground. Flowers white, 9 inches, 15c.
- ACHILLEA MILLEFOLIUM ROSEUM, (R) The heads of rosy pink flowers are borne from mid-summer until late fall, 18 inches, 15c.
- ACHILLEA SERICEA, (R) Arching fronds of gray-green, heads of brilliant yellow flowers. 8 inches, 15c.
- ACHILLEA SETACEA, (R) Fern-shaped, aromatic foliage, large heads of deep yellow flowers. Give it plenty of room. 1 foot, 15c.
- ACHILLEA TOMENTOSA, (R) Woolly green leaves and golden yellow flowers. Excellent for carpeting effect. 9 inches, 15c.
- ACONITUM WILSONI, A soft blue "Monkshood" that is as handsome as delphiniums in the garden. Fall blooming. 5 feet. 15c.
- AETHIONEMA CORIDIFOLIUM, (R) Of dwarf, shrubby habit, some 8 inches tall. Lilac rose flowers are pleasingly set off by foliage of bluish cast. Small plants (they transplant best) 25c.
- AETHIONEMA PERSICUM, (R) "The Persian Candy-tuft" is a little taller than Cordifolium, the flowers a little lighter shade, but equally handsome. Try them both. Small plants, 25c.
- AJUGA GENEVENSIS, (R) Bronze foliage, spikes of clear blue flowers. Excellent for shade. Handsome, but a spreader. 15c.
- ALSTROMERIA AURANTIACA, "Peruvian Lily." Large lily-like flowers of orange, streaked with red, and borne in umbels. Requires slight protection in cold climates. A fine cut flower. 3 feet. 25c
- ALSTROMERIA LUTEA, Similar to the above, but lemon color. 25c.
- ALYSSUM ROSTRATUM, (R) A Very robust sort with masses of golden bloom for weeks. 15 in. 15c
- ALYSSUM SAXATILE CITRINUM, (R) Masses of pale yellow flowers give this variety an individual charm. 15c.
- ALYSSUM SAXATILE COMPACTUM, (R) Deep yellow flowers. A favorite in all rock gardens. 1 foot. 15c.
- ANCHUSA—DWARF, Flowers are a medium shade of brilliant blue. 15 inches. 15c.
- ANCHUSA ITALICA-DROPMORE, Deep blue flowers like a giant forget-me-not, borne abundantly in late spring. A mass of this is especially fine in the garden. 4 feet. 10c
- ANDROSACE PRIMULOIDES, (R) Rosettes of silky foliage and rosy lilac flowers combine to make this an unusually attractive subject for the rock garden. A top dressing of gravel or stone chips to keep the foliage off the moist winter earth is almost essential. 30c; Small potted plants, special 15c.
- ANDROSACE VITALIANA, (R) Dainty clear yellow flowers in pleasing contrast to gray-green foliage—a diminutive jewel for a choice niche. Available only as pot plants about May 1. 60c.

ANEMONE

ANEMONE HUPHENSIS, (R) New. Plants only 15 inches high, the flowers of delicate pink but half the size of the well-known Japanese anemones. An introduction from China. 15c.

ANEMONE JAPONICA "Louise Uhink" Very large semi-double pure white flowers. Handsome anemone in my gardens. 3 feet. 25c.

ANEMONE JAPONICA "Max Vogel" Huge flowers of lavender-pink. Semi-double. These are twice the size of the ordinary type. 3 feet. 25c.

ANEMONE JAPONICA, "Queen Charlotte." Well named, as this plant is really a queen among fall perennials, and magnificent en masse. Lavender-pink, semi-double flowers from August until frost. Half shade is a requirement for finest display. 15c

ANEMONE JAPONICA RUBRA, Rose red. 2 feet. 25c.

ANEMONE JAPONICA "Whirlwind" Pure white flowers, at same prices as Queen Charlotte.

ANEMONE PULSATILLA, (R) Big, fragile looking anemones of lavender spring from the crown of attractively cut leaves. Neither plant nor flowers are at all fragile in reality, but unusually hardy. 6 inches. 25c.

ANEMONE RIVULARIS, White flowers, the outside violet. A very distinct form. 1 foot. 15c.

ANEMONE ST. BAVO, (R) From palest pink to the brightest scarlet, with an occasional blue or lavender for variety, these unusual wind flowers gain more than their share of admiration. 25c.

ANEMONE ST. BRIGID'S, (R) Some single, some double, the colors embracing white and many shades of blue, pink and red. Fine for cutting. They bloom for many weeks. 15c.

ANTENNARIA UMBRINELLA, (R) Forms an attractive mat of silver gray. Flowers white. 3 inches. 15c

AQUILEGIA, Mrs. Scott-Elliott hybrids. These are from the English originator, an absolutely unexcelled strain with long spurred flowers of delicate colors. 15c.

AQUILEGIA COERULEA, (R) The famous Rocky Mountain columbine in fetching garb of blue and white. 20c.

AQUILEGIA FLABELLATA, (R) A lovely dwarf white. 25c.

PLANTS ARE CAREFULLY LABELED

Of course you will want to familiarize yourself with the names, both for your own satisfaction and the added interest in showing your garden to friends.

ARABIS ALBIDA ROSEA, (R) These come in varying shades of pink. 1 foot. 15c.

ARABIS ALBIDA VARIEGATA, (R) Leaves of clear cut green and white. Very striking. 6 inches. 15c.

ARABIS ALPINA, (R) Forms a complete carpet of pleasing dull green foliage, covered in early spring with snow-white flowers. 10c.

ARABIS ALPINA FLORA PLENA, (R) The double form. Just as free flowering as the single, but more desirable in many locations, as it does not increase so fast. 10c.

ARABIS AUBRIETIOIDES, (R) A charming pink form. 6 inches. 10c.

ARENARIA CAESPITOSA, (R) Might be called an emerald green moss. Likes a sunny site. Small white flowers. 10c.

ARENARIA GRANDIFLORA, (R) Small tufted Alpine with white flowers. Very much smaller than Arenaria Montana. 10c.

ARENARIA MONTANA, (R) A plant of slender, graceful growth, its dark green stems smothered in white flowers in late spring. Most desirable in every way. 10c.

ARMERIA VULGARIS, (R) Grasslike foliage with pretty rose flowers on 9 inch stems. Fine for edging or rockery. 10c.

ARMERIA, (R) Pale lavender, dwarf variety of which we have not the name, but it is good. 10c.

ARTEMISIA

ARTEMISIA FRIDIDA, (R) Another silver-foliaged plant that is extra fine. 20c.

ARTEMISIA LACTIFLORA, In late August and September its fleecy white plumes are most decorative in the garden. The hawthorne fragrance is very marked. Fine informal hedge or screen. 6 ft. 15c.

ARTEMISIA PEDEMONTANA, Conspicuous and effective as a silvery foil for other plants. Combine with pink or red flowers. 2 feet. 15c.

ASPERULA CYNANCHICA, (R) Makes a perfect network of feathery, angular branches, tipped with small rose flowers. 15 inches. 20c.

PACKING PLANTS FOR SHIPMENT

Packed with care in damp moss, plants reach their destination as fresh as when dug. They are sent with equal success to customers on the Pacific and the Atlantic Coast. Parcel post for small packages, express for the larger ones.

ASPERULA ODORATA, (R) As a ground cover under trees, or to cover shady banks, we do not know any other plant that compares with this. Flowers are white, but the chief charm is the foliage. 10c. This is also called Waldmeister.

ASTERS—Perennial

("Michaelmas Daisies")

Do not confuse these with the annual bedding asters. The perennials are robust growers, the taller sorts especially good for planting at the back of borders or at the edge of a bit of woodland. Their masses of flowers in the autumn give one of the finest effects imaginable.

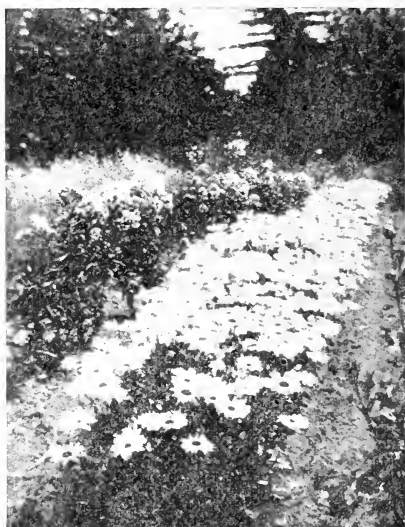

BARR'S PINK, Finest and newest of all the large pink flowering sorts. Five feet. 15c.

BEAUTY OF RONSDORF, (R) Imagine graceful 15 inch stems bearing quantities of light purple flowers with golden centers (each flower as large as a silver dollar) each stem a bouquet in itself, and you will realize that this is very much out of the ordinary. 20c.

BRIGHTEST AND BEST, Bright rose—extra. 4 ft. 15c

CLIMAX, Large light blue flowers with orange centers. One of the very best. 4 feet. 10c.

THE NEW BABY BREATH ASTER, Fine for mixing in bouquets, white. 25c.

A Corner in Our Flower Field.

CORDIFOLIA, Tiny lavender flowers in graceful sprays, especially suited to baskets or bouquets. Late blooming. 5 feet. 10c.

ERICA, Tall mauve. Extra good for cutting. 10c.

FELTHAM BLUE, Rich blue, very free flowering and early. 4 feet. 10c.

GRACILLIMAS, Latest of all. Tiny white flowers, changing to blue. Fine for cutting. Seldom seen. 2 feet. 25c.

JAPANESE ASTER "Mauve Cushion", (R) The plant does not exceed nine inches in height and is covered in late fall with rosy lavender flowers. Do not expect this fine variety to be thoroughly effective until established a year. 15c.

MAGGIE PERRY, Lavender flowers, large and of unique form, hard to describe but making it one of the handsomest sorts yet introduced. 3 feet. 15c.

MRS. D. MITCHELL Pink. Not large flowered but extra good just the same. 10c.

MRS. RAYNOR, Deep rose. Always attracts attention in the garden. 4 feet. 15c.

PRAECOX, Heliotrope purple, glowing orange center. 4 feet. 15c.

PRAECOX MAJOR, Simialr to preceding, but 6 feet tall. 15c.

ROBINSON V. C., Mauve flowers in graceful sprays. Double. 4 feet. 15c.

ROSEUM SUPERBUM, Almost a red. Very free flowering and handsome. 5 feet. 10c.

ROYCROFT PURPLE, Rich purple, 4 feet. 15c.

ST. EDGWIN, Beautiful soft pink flowers, borne in graceful sprays. 3 feet. 10c.

SUB-COERULESCENS, (R) Violet blue flowers in June and July, 12-inch stems: Choice cutting material. 10c.

ASTIBLES (Spireas)

These charming plants prefer light shade and must have ample water and fertility. Then they reward with fleecy plumes of various fetching pink shades. 2 feet. 25c each.

AMERICA, Deep pink.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA, Light Pink.

RUEBENS, Deep rose.

PRINCESS MARY, Soft Pink.

AUBRIETIAS ("Rock Cress")

All Especially Fine for the Rockery

AUBRIETIA. (R) New large-glowered hybrids. The range of color includes lavender, purple, mauve, rose and crimson. Plant with your double Arabis and pale yellow alyssum, or let the Aubretia fall over the rocks in colorful curtains. Trailing. 10c.

AUBRIETIA BOUGAINVILLEAE, (R) A delightful rosy mauve shade, calling to mind that gorgeous vine of the tropics, from which this Aubretia takes its name. 10c.

AUBRIETIA "Crimson King", (R) The richest of its color yet attained. 15c.

AUBRIETIA HENDERSONII, (R) A rich violet color, with large flowers. 15c.

AURICULA, (See Primulas).

BELLIS PERENNIS, (R) Old-fashioned quilled daisy, bright cherry red shading to white in center. Very quaint and free flowering. 3 inches. 10c.

BELLIS PERENNIS "Longfellow" (R) A giant type, with deep rose flowers. 10c.

BELLUM MINUTUM, (R) A tiny daisy from Greece. It blooms for weeks at a time. 3 inches. 15c.

BETONICA GRANDIFLORA, (R) Rather coarse but effective. Light magenta flowers. 15 inches. 15c.

BLEEDING HEART, (See Dicentra Spectabilis).

CALAMINTHA ALPINA, (R) All summer long the small violet flowers adorn the slender shoots of this easily grown plant. 8 inches. 15c.

CAMPANULAS (Bell Flower)

CAMPANULA BELLARDI MIRANDI, (R) A novelty, with bells of silvery blue. Very profuse flowering. 3 inches. 50c.

CAMPANULA CALYCANTHEMA, Pink. The ever-popular "cup and saucer" Canterbury Bell. 10c. $1.00 per dozen.

CAMPANULA CARPATICA GRANDIFLORA, (R) Free-flowering, robust and good looking. The variety offered is a soft blue. Deserves generous planting. 10c.

CAMPANULA CARPATICA "Isabel", (R) Extremely large and wide-open flowers of light blue. 15c.

CAMPANULA CARPATICA "Riverslea Beauty" (R) Much larger than the type, and of slightly different form. Please specify whether you want blue or white—you should have BOTH. 15c.

CAMPANULA FENESTRELLATA, (R) Of delightful trailing, habit equally at home in rock garden or wall. Medium blue is the shade—flowers star, rather than bell shaped. 25c.

- CAMPANULA GLOMERATA, (R) Shakes its deep purple bells from stems a foot tall. Blooms in June. 15c.
- CAMPANULA "Josephine" We have not the botanical name of this, but that does not detract from its beauty. A symmetrical bush 2 feet high, covered with erectly borne bells of lavender blue. The legend is that it originated in the Empress Josephine's garden. 15c.
- CAMPANULA LATIFOLIA, The flowers vary from pale lavender to violet and hang like bells from a central stalk 18 inches or more in height. Long blooming period. Increases fast. 15c.
- CAMPANULA LAURII, (R) This lovely plant, of rather recent English introduction, has fully lived up to the good things said about it. Pale rosy-lavender bells, borne upright and in the greatest profusion. 8 inches. 15c.
- NEW KOREAN CHRYSANTHEUM, white flowers from August until frost. 25c.
- CANTERBURY BELL. Dozen, 75c.
- CAMPANULA PERSICIFOLIA "White Peach Bells"
In even a modest mass, the purity and grace of these flowers are irresistible. 2 feet. 10c.
- CAMPANULA PERSICIFOLIA "Blue Peach Bells" A fitting companion to the white variety. 10c.
Pale China blue; distinct from the foregoing. 10c
- CAMPANULA PORTENSCHLAGIANA (R) One of the finest trailing varieties. Synonym of Muralis. 20c.
- CAMPANULA PYRAMIDALIS "Blue Chimney Bell Flower". An impressive flower stalk 4 to 6 feet tall, carries great numbers of the handsome blue blossoms. Small plants. 10c.
- CAMPANULA PUSILLA (R) "Fairy bells might well be the description of this charming subject. The flowers are blue, the whole plant a miniature gem. Light shade. When pleased, it spreads rapidly. 4 inches. 10c.
- CAMPANULA PUSILLA ALBA. (R). This is a white form of the above and if possible even more chaste and charming than the blue. 10c.
- CAMPANULA ROTUNDIFOLIA "Scotch Hare Bells"
(R) Small blue bells on slender stems have long made this plant a favorite. Blooms early and late. 15c.
- CAMPANULA SARMATICA, (R) A rare form. It is a vigorous grower. 1 foot. Blue. 50c.
- CAMPANULA TURBINATA, (R) Close mates of foliage with close-set blue saucers of flowers. 25c.
- CALANDRIANA UMBALATA, reddish magenta blooms in August and September. 6-inches. 15c.
- CARNATION-GIANT MARGUERITE. Yes, these are real carnations, robust and free blooming, and with strong clove fragrance. In mixed colors only. 15c. $1.50 per dozen.
- CENTAUREA MACROCEPHALA, A very striking plant with bloom like a huge yellow thistle. The brown buds are very ornamental. 3 feet. Should be in every garden. 25c.
- CERASTIUM BIEBERSTEINI, (R) Pure white flowers, woolly white foliage. A refined "Snow in Summer," and said not to spread. 9 inches. 10c.
- CERATOSTIGMA PLUMBAGINOIDES, (R) (See Plumbago Larpentae).

- CHEIRANTHUS ALLIONII "The Fairy Wall Flower," (R) The flowers of brilliant orange are delightfully fragrant, and best of all, they are borne in profusion all summer. Equally indispensable in the perennial garden and rockery. 1 foot. 10c.
- CHEIRANTHUS LINIFOLIUS, (R) New species with lilac-mauve flowers. 15c.
- CHELONE BARBATA "Shell Flower," Graceful racemes of small pink or red flowers, springing from a tuft of glossy foliage. 3 feet. 10c.

CHRYSANTHEMUMS

These are the last flowers to give a real display in the garden and are doubly acceptable on that account. We all know their possibilities in bowl or basket for the house.

- AMELIA, Absolutely distinct and new, this variety begins to produce its lively pink double flowers of medium size in very early summer. A summer Chrysanthemum. Blooms until frost. 25c.
- GOLDEN CLIMAX, Small brilliant yellow pompon. 10c

CISTUS LAURIFOLIUS, White rock rose. The hardest of these fine plants, but suited only to the Pacific Slope. 3 feet. Flowers creamy white. 50c.

COLUMBINE (See Aquilegia).

COREOPSIS LANCEOLATA GRANDIFLORA, One of the most useful of all perennials for the border. Bright yellow, always in flower. 2 feet. 10c.

COREOPSIS—DOUBLE, The bright yellow flowers are really only semi-double, but a noticeable and attractive departure from the type. 25c.

DAPHNE CNEORUM, (R) One of the finest shrubs for the rock garden. The flowers are pink with exquisite fragrance. 18 inches. Heavy plants, 12 to 15 inches diameter. 75c to $1.00.

DELPHINIUM Improved Belladonna. Much larger and finer than the old Belladonna, but with the same heavenly blue found in no other flower. 6 feet. 10c; 12 for $1.00.

DELPHINIUM, Choicest English exhibition strains. These are raised from the most expensive imported seed, and include single and double flowers in all the exquisite shades that place the delphinium in a class alone. Lighter shades predominate. A very large stock enables us to name the low price of 10c; 12 for $1.00.

DIANTHUS

DIANTHUS ALLWOODI, These are of English origin, and the sort we offer is a brilliant cerise. Flowers for a very long period. Single. 15 inches. 10c.

DIANTHUS ALPINUS, (R) Likes a little lime in loose loam. Large flowers of brilliant rose. Rewards a little pampering. 15c.

DIANTHUS ARENARIUS (R) As indicated by the name, a sand soil suits this pink admirably. Flowers white, deeply fringed and fragrant. Rather late bloomer. 15c.

- DIANTHUS ARVENENSIS, (R) A diminutive form of Dianthus Caesius, very neat and attractive. Flowers pink, on 3-inch stems. 15c.
- DIANTHUS CAESIUS, (R) A wonderful garden pink, with very erect stems and small single flowers in varying shades of pink. The foliage is itself most ornamental. Much used for rockeries. The handsomest hardy pink in our gardens. 9 inches. 20c.
- DIANTHUS CAMPESTRIS, Of unusual, upright and slender habit. Flowers a soft pink. 1 foot. 15c.
- DIANTHUS DELTOIDES (R) Tiny flowers of deep rose color completely cover the plant in spring. Try a dozen in border or rock garden. 10c.
- DIANTHUS DELTOIDES "Major Stearns", (R) Rich crimson flowers and deep bronze foliage. Vigorous and free blooming.
- DIANTHUS "Gladys Cranfield." The finest hardy pink ever introduced. Makes a large plant and produces freely its huge single blooms of delicate pink with a central zone of velvety crimson. 18 inches. Extra strong plants. 15c.
- DINATHUS KAMTSCHATICUS, (R) A trailing rock pink of recent introduction, most remarkable for the freedom with which it produces its large deep rose blossoms. With us it bloomed for five months. 15c.
- DIANTHUS NEGLECTUS, (R) Many call this the handsomest of rock pinks. A striking cherry red is the color. Gritty soil and perfect drainage. 20c
- DIANTHUS PLUMARIUS, (R) Just the well-known, old-fashioned garden pinks, saturating the spring air with their fragrance and casting enchantment over the garden in general. Pink or white, as you prefer. 10c.
- DIANTHUS—Selected Rock Hybrids (R) Resembling Dianthus Deltoides, but with considerable variation in foliage and flower. Very low growing, with dainty little blossoms. 10c.
- DIANTHUS SUNDERMANII, (R) Snow white flowers, small but perfect, and appearing very late. The true jasmine fragrance is a never-failing surprise. A generous planting perfumes the neighborhood at nightfall. 15c.
- DIANTHUS SPECIOSUS, (R) Flowers so deeply laciniated they might best be described as graceful lavender-rose fringe. Absolutely distinct, but not difficult. 25c.
- DRABA AZOIDES, (R) Attractive rosettes of hairy leaves, two inches high. Spring brings a crown of yellow bloom. Especially fine for the tiny rockery, or a special niche. 15c.
- DRABA COLUMBIANA, (R) A fine rock plant. Yellow flowers against a foil of dull green foliage. Dwarf. 15c.
- DRYAS OCTOPETALA, (R) A shrubby little evergreen about six inches high with particularly fine foliage. Each lovely white flower (and they are borne in abundance) has eight petals, as the name indicates. 35c.
- DICENTRA SPECTABILIS, "Bleeding Heart," Well-known favorite with drooping racemes of pink flowers. 2 feet. We offer 2-year plants. 25c.
- DORONICUM CAUCASICUM, Flowers like a huge yellow daisy, 3 inches across, on 15-inch stems. One of the earliest glints of sunshine in the garden. 10c.

- DOUGLASIA LAEVIGATA, (R) A rare little beauty from the Olympic Mountains. Bright pink flowers on 3-inch stems, the foliage in compact cushions about an inch high. $1.00.
- DRABA REPENS, (R) Tiny mustard-yellow flowers in profusion over a long period in late spring. 6 inches. 15c.
- DRACOCEPHALUM NUTANS ALPINUM, (R) Pleasing blue flowers appearing in late summer, 9 inches. 20c.
- ECHINOPS RITRO, The bold "Globe Thistle," with steely, blue, globular flowers, reaches a height of 6 feet, and is effective planted near a fence or at back of perennial borders. 15c.
- EDELWEIS, (R) (See Leontopodium Alpinum).
- EPILOBIUM NUMMULARIFOLIUM, (R) Distinctive creeper, which rapidly carpets the ground with its tiny leaves of metallic bronze. Fast-growing but not pernicious. 25c.
- ERICA CARNEA ROSEA, (R) A charming pink heather which on the Pacific Coast blooms from November to March, even under snow. Questionably hardy in very cold climates. 1 foot. Splendid shrub to use as a group in the rock garden. Plant early. 3 sizes. 25c, 35c, 50c.
- ERICA "Irish Heather" (R) Forms a symmetrical little bush of dark evergreen foliage. In late summer a profusion of pale pink flowers cover the branches. Large plants only. 50c.
- ERICA VAGANS, (R) Summer flowering and white, of loose, graceful growth—15 inches. 25c.
- ERIGERON ELATIOR, The pretty lavender flowers are produced all summer. 15 inches. This variety is new and very desirable. 15c.
- EUNONEMUS RADICANS, Vining shrub, variegated. 15c.
- ERIGERON GLABRA, (R) A native of the Cascade Mountains. Small lavender flowers smother the plant. A vigorous grower. 8 inches. 15c.
- ERIGERON MUCRONATUS, (R) Small daisy-like flowers of pale pink, 6 inch stems. Free and persistent flowering. 10c.
- ERIGERON MULTIRADIATUS ROSEA, (R) New. Dwarf habit, attractive pink blossoms. 15c.
- ERINUS ALPINUS, (R) 4-inches would cover the height of the leafy rosettes and delicate flowers ranging from lavender to rose. A choice Alpine most successfully grown in the rock-wall. 10c.
- ERIOPHYLLUM CAESPITOSUM, (R) "Oregon Sunshine." Of course the flowers are a rich yellow. Foliage of soft gray-green. Likes full sun. 8 inches. Superior for the rockery, but effective anywhere and especially in very poor soil. 10c.
- ERYNGIUM OLIVERANUM, From a cluster of glossy leaves rises a branched stem some four feet high. The thistle-like flowers, which are very numerous, assume an amethyst sheen. 10c.
- ERYNGIUM ZABELI, A much bolder type than the preceding, forming specimen clumps 3 feet in height. Small plants. 20c.
- ERYSIMUM PULCHELLUM, (R) A new dwarf species, forming close mats of dark green, later eclipsed with yellow bloom. Sandy soil. 10c.
- EULALIA JAPONICA GRACILIS, An ornamental grass that is the climax of grace. Forms handsome clumps. Dark green. 50c.
- EULALIA JAPONICA VARIEGATA. A heavier leaf than the preceding and variegated with creamy stripes. 5 feet. 35c.

- EUPHORBIA MYRSINITES, (R) Very ornamental on account of its bluish-green foliage. Not a spreader, but so strong growing it is most appropriate for the large rock garden, or generous pocket. Trailing. Yellow flowers. 25c.
- GENTIANA SEPTEMFIDA, (R) One of the easiest to grow and lovely, with clear blue flowers in mid-summer. 8 to 10 inches. 50c.
- GENTIANA SINO-ORNATA, (R) Many class this as loveliest of gentians, with its big dark blue blooms, borne from August until autumn. Available only as potted plants, about May 1. 75c.
- GERANIUM IBERICUM, (R) These handsome plants attain a height of 15 inches. Large flowers of velvety texture, rich light purple in color. 50c.
- GERANIUM SANGUINEUM, (R) Single pink flowers abundantly borne. Makes a large plant. 1 foot. 35c.
- GERARDIA HYBRIDS, Charming plants with flowers like small penstemons, ranging from pale pink to deep rose. Very persistent bloomers—probably not hardy in eastern gardens. 2 feet. 25c.
- GEUM CILIATUM, (R) The most attractive feature of this plant is the feathery seed-pods which are an ornament to the garden for a long time. 8 in. 15c.
- GEUM "Lady Stratheden" Rich yellow flowers, a decided novelty in this popular plant. Double, free flowering. 10c.
- GEUM "Mrs. Bradshaw," Brilliant orange scarlet flowers resembling small roses, cover the plant all summer. You'll be delighted with a liberal planting of these. 10c.
- GENISTA PROSTRATA, (R) There is nothing more charming than these dwarf brooms, a golden shower in spring (and occasionally in the fall) and interesting evergreen shrubs at all times. Hot, dry situations suit them. Height 6 inches. 50c.
- GENISTA SAGGITALIS, (R) Just as attractive as Prostrata, entirely distinct, but with curiously winged stems. Vivid yellow flowers. 6 inches. 50c.
- GENTIANA ACAULIS, (R) This jewel from the Swiss Alps is the ambition of every rock gardener, with its big trumpets of the richest blue imaginable. These appear in spring, and frequently again in autumn. A soil with perfect drainage and a liberal mixture of stone chips is essential to success. Sun or light shade. 50c.
- GERANIUM LANCASTRIENSE, (R) Large pale pink blossoms rest on the low green foliage mat. One of the most desirable of this family. Sun or light shade. 25c.
- GEUM BULGARICUM, (R) One of the rare dwarf varieties that everyone raves about. Orange. Including flower stems, only 8 inches high. 25c.
- GEUM SIBERICUM, (R) Vivid orange flowers. The plant does not exceed 3 inches in height. Worthy of a choice pocket in the rockery. 25c.
- GLOBULARIA TRICHOSANTHA, (R) The glossy leaves often assume a deep purple tint, the flowers about the size of marbles and a pretty blue. 6 inches. 10c.
- GRAPE HYACINTHS, (R) (See Muscari).
- GYPSOPHILA ACUTIFOLIA, "Baby Breath," Tiny white flowers, fragrant and earlier than Paniculata. 15c.
- GYPSOPHILA PANICULATA, "Baby Breath" is indispensable for bouquets. Allow plenty of room, as plants grow to specimen size and 3 feet tall. 25c.
- GYPSOPHILA PANICULATA FL. PL., This just means the double form, preferred by many. It's still graceful and filmy. And it can be dried, too. 35c.

GYPSOPHILA REPENS ROSEA, (R) A fine trailing plant, for rockery or wall. Delicate rose colored flowers. Truth compels the statement that the color is so delicate that it is sometimes almost white. 25c.

HARPALIUM RIGIDUM, Long, golden petals around a brown center, like a refined and glorified sunflower. 6 to 8 feet. Try it against lattice or garage. 15c.

HARPALIUM RIGIDUM "Daniel Dewar," Handsome flowers of stiff semi-quilled formation—color rich golden yellow. Very upright growth. 3 feet. 25c.

HEATHER. (See Erica).

THE HELENIUMS

These are magnificent for generous use in the early autumn garden. All grow about 4 feet tall and are excellent to cut. Bloom well the first year.

AUTUMN QUEEN, Old gold, reverse of petals copper. 10c.

AUTUMNAL RUBRUM, A novelty. Almost oxblood red. 25c.

HOOPEST, This is an earlier blooming kind, with flowers from May until late summer. Clear golden yellow. 15c.

RIVERTON BEAUTY, Clear lemon yellow. 10c.

HELIANTHEMUMS (R)

The "Sun roses" are among the most effective plants employed in the rock garden, semi-schubby and evergreen, and with a wealth of beautiful flowers. They vary from those of trailing habit to a height of perhaps 9 inches. The plants offered are all extra strong and of good size. We do not carry the ordinary mixed colors, offered at a lower price.

Clear Lemon Yellow, single, small plants, 10c.

Double Red Flowers, 10c.

Delicate Pink, single, 10c.

Duchess of Croydon, Delicate peach color, 10c.

Rich Orange (with Burnt Orange Center) 20c.

Large Plants, 20c and 40c.

Double red, 15c.

HELIANTHEMUM, "Brilliant" (R) Single flowers of clear, deep cerise, which always excite admiration and comment. 15c.

HELIANTHEMUM PRAECOX, (R) A variety seldom seen. Grayish foliage and yellow flowers. 15c.

HELIANTHEMUM "Sundbury Queen" (R) This is an English sort. The little single roses are of the most arresting bronze-orange. 15c.

HELIANTHUS ANGUSTIFOLIUS, Of particularly graceful habit, and latest of all its family to bloom. Slender brilliant yellow petals surround a black disc. 6 feet. 15c.

HELIANTHUS "Soleil D'or" Like Golden Glow, but superior in habit and especially suitable for informal hedging. With tall, perennial asters, the purple and gold is a good contrast. 25c.

HEMEROCALLIS "Gold Dust" These are also known as day lilies. Deep yellow, fragrant flowers. 15 inches. 15c. Also orange.

HERNIARIA GLABRA, (R) A brilliant green carpeting plant of extreme daintiness. 15c.

HESPERIS MATRONALIS, The "Sweet Rocket" of old-fashioned gardens, and it is sweet, perfuming the whole garden. Pink, flowers occasionally white. 2½ feet. 10c.

HEUCHERA SANGUINEA "Coral Bells" (R) Delicate red flowers on 12-inch stems. Nothing daintier in the garden. Large 2-year plants. 15c.
Small plants, 10c.

HEUCHERA SANGUINEA MAXIMA, (R) Much improved sort, with larger and more numerous flowers of intense color. A very few plants at 50c.

HOLLYHOCKS—CHATER'S DOUBLE, These are the finest strain obtainable. They are offered in five splendid colors. All priced at 10c.
Double Pink, Double Salmon, Double Yellow
Double Maroon, Double Mixed Colors.

HUTCHINSIA AUERSWALDII, (R) Dainty white bloom, on low mat of glossy green. Likes shade. 15c

HYPERICUM CORIS, (R) Handsomest rock subject of the entire race. An upright, half shrubby little plant bearing its miniature golden flowers in profusion. 5 inches. Deserves a "reserved seat" in the rock garden. 25c.

HYPERICUM FRAGILE, (R) Trailing, and good, whether in leaf or flower. Bright yellow blossoms on 6-inch stems. 15c.

HYPERICUM MOSERIANUM, Taller than the preceding varieties, being sometimes 18 inches in height. Spreads rapidly. 20c.

HYPERICUM POLYPHYLLUM, (R) Very similar to Hypericum Repens, and equally fine foliage. 15c.

HYPERICUM REPENS, (R) A multitude of slender stems, clothed with pretty leaves and terminating in golden yellow flowers, make this one of the most satisfactory rock garden subjects. Evergreen. 6 inches. 10c.

IBERIS TENOREANA, (R) An improved perennial candytuft, completely smothered with rose lavender flowers about Decoration Day. Evergreen. 9 inches. Will do best if planted early. 15c.

IBERIS SEMPERVIRENS, (R) A shrubby little evergreen, whose flowers make it a veritable snow-drift in spring. 1 foot. 15c.

INCARVILLEA DELAVAYI, Sometimes called the Hardy Gloxinia, for its trumpeted flowers of rich rose resemble that flower somewhat. Too, the foliage is unusually handsome. Not a rock subject, but an extra fine perennial for early summer bloom. 25c.

IRIS PUMILLA, (R) The ordinary purple sort is fine, but give your garden a treat with some of these far less common kinds—yes, they are just as dwarf and just as early.

Prairie Gem, Light, clear yellow. 10c.

Stuart A. Hybrida, A more pronounced yellow. 10c.

The Bride, Pure white. 10c.

IRIS, Siberian—Pygmy (R) How fortunate we are to have this dwarf form of a universal favorite, for "Pygmy" is ideal for the rockery, or fronting the perennial border. The color? Dark violet. Light shade. 25c.

IRIS STYLOSA (Algerian Iris) (R) It's hard to believe that this iris presents its lovely lavender-blue blossoms in mid-winter. But it does and they're fragrant too. A light, perfectly drained soil and sheltered, sunny position spell success. Grassy foliage, flowers 6 to 12 inches. 20c.

One of Our Iris Gardens

IRISES—Germanica

No other hardy plant is getting quite so much attention nowadays as the Iris, and if you have seen an Iris-bordered path in June, flaunting its regal purple and delicate lavender and rich bronze in the spring sunshine, or have had the privilege of viewing a collection which included some of the magnificent new introductions from France and England and our own American originators, you will admit there is ample reason.

Iris increase rapidly and soon form handsome clumps. They are transplanted in early spring or early fall with equal certainty of thriving in their new locations, but fall planting gives greater assurance of flowers the first season. The roots should not be set too deep—a couple of inches of soil to cover is sufficient. They require good drainage and prefer full sunshine. Manure is particularly distasteful to them and often fatal, but bone-meal and air-slaked lime are excellent. June is the month of most prolific bloom.

AFTERGLOW, Grayish lavender merging into soft yellow. Much admired. A generous increaser. 25c.

ALCAZAR, Standards light blue violet, falls rich purple. 25c.

AMBASSADEUR, Standards smoky lilac—falls deep purple maroon of velvety texture. Massive flowers. 25c.

ARCHEVEQUE, Velvety violet purple, distinctive in any collection. 25c.

B. Y. MORRISON, Standards lavender, falls purple bordered lavender. 25c.

CATERINA, Huge flowers of soft, silvery lavender, on very tall stems. Delicious fragrance. Multiplies slowly. 25c.

CLUNY, Delicate blue-lilac, the falls lightly striped with brown. 25c.

CRIMSON KING, Very early and rich in coloring. In sunlight has a crimson cast. 30c.

CRUSADER, A beautiful intense clear blue, the standards a little lighter than the falls. Free blooming. 35c.

DEJAZET, Bronze-rose is the general effect of this unusual flower. 50c.

FLAVESCENS, Soft, sulphur yellow throughout. Free bloomer. 10c.

FRO, Standards orange, falls mahogany. The best of its coloring. 15c.

- GERMANICA, A rich deep purple flower, large and early. Especially good for naturalizing. 20c; 6 for $1.00.
- GOLD CREST, Flowers a bright violet blue, with brilliant orange beard in striking contrast. One of the finest. 25c.
- GOLIATH, Standards an olive-tan, falls reddish purple. Subdued coloring, but very pleasing. Seldom seen. 25c.
- HELGA, Early flowering, half dwarf variety, with pale yellow blooms. 25c.
- HER MAJESTY, Impression given by this flower is a deep pink. Plant with Queen of May. 10c.
- ISOLENE, Standards silvery lilac, falls purplish old rose. As fine as it is unique. 15c.
- JUNIATA, Clear deep blue, tall and vigorous. 25c.
- KATHRYN FRYER, Standards yellow, the falls velvet maroon. Many flowers on tall stems. Very brilliant. Late. 30c.
- KHARPUT, A lovely combination of violet and reddish purple. 25c.
- KING OF IRIS, Standards clear yellow, falls maroon margined gold. Striking. 25c.
- KOCHII, Extremely early, very deep claret purple. Buds are coal black. 25c.
- LENT A. WILLIAMSON, Standards soft violet, falls royal purple with velvety texture. Tall, large. 25c.
- LEONIDAS, A beautiful combination of light and deeper blue. 30c.
- LIBERTY, Rich blue, a trifle darker than Juniata. Plant the two together, with Pallida Dalmatica, if you want something fine. 25c.
- LORD OF JUNE, Standards lavender blue, falls light violet blue. A frequent prize winner. 50c.
- LORELEY, Standards light yellow, falls purple merging into canary. Standards are often splashed with purple. Very gay. 25c.
- MAGNIFICA, Standards light purple, falls deep purple. Massive flower. One of the much-discussed new ones. $1.00.
- MA MIE, White, suffused with the daintiest blue. 10c.
- MAUVINE, Standards mauve, falls a few shades darker. 25c.
- MAORI KING, Standards bright yellow, falls crimson, bordered gold. Late and dwarf. Excellent to use in front of taller sorts. 15c.
- MLLE. SCHWARTZ, Mauve of extraordinary delicacy. 35c.
- MONSIGNOR, Standards satiny violet, falls crimson purple, margined lighter. 25c.
- MME DURAND, Soft buff with heliotrope flush. Distinct. $3.50.
- MORNING SPLENDOR, Rich purple with reddish tone, enhanced by brilliant beard. Highly commended by American Iris Society. $1.50.
- MOTHER OF PEARL, Its coloring is well indicated by the name. 35c.
- MRS. ALAN GRAY, Delicate orchid pink, frequently blooming a second time in the fall. 25c.
- NANCY ORME, Lovely pinkish-rose. 50c.
- NIBELUNGEN, Standards fawn with olive tint; falls purple, edged with fawn. 20c.
- NIMBUS, Peculiar sombre coloring, deep violet, with slaty tone. 50c.
- OPERA, Standards reddish lilac, falls purple. 50c.
- PALLIDA DALMATICA, Big flowers of lovely silvery lavender. Tall. One of the very best for massing. 25c.

- PALLIDA DALMATICA VARIEGATA, Similar to above, except that the foliage is striped in a striking manner with white. 25c.
- PARISIANA, Standards lavender pink, falls cream, stippled and suffused with lavender. 35c.
- PAULINE, Tall claret red. 25c.
- PERFECTION, Standards old blue; falls deep velvety purple. Particularly fine form. 25c.
- PRINCESS VICTORIA LOUISE, Standards are primrose, falls plum, margined primrose. 20c.
- PROSPER LANGIER, A fine bronze, with large flowers. 30c.
- PROSPERO, Bold purple and light blue, wonderfully good looking. 50c.
- QUAKER LADY, A demure combination of smoky lavender and mother of pearl tints. 25c.
- QUEEN CATERINA, A truly patrician flower of palest lavender, overlaid with a marked sheen. Exquisite. 25c.
- QUEEN OF MAY, If you are fond of pink effects, try a mass planting of this beautiful sort. With Iberis Tenoreana. It is something to rave over. 10c.
- RED CLOUD, When the sun is on this iris, it is almost crimson. 35c.
- RHEIN NIXE, Standards purest white, falls deep violet bordered with white. 15c.
- SEMINOLE, Velvety flower of rich reddish tone. 50c.
- SHALIMAR, A blue, out of the ordinary. 25c.
- SHEKINAH, Tall yellow. Plant with lavender or blue sorts. 30c.
- SHERWIN WRIGHT, Bright golden yellow, the rich color more than offsetting the rather small size of the flowers. Medium height. 25c.
- SOUVENIR de MME. GAUDICHAUX, A uniform shade of dark blue-purple, lit at the center by the vivid gold of its beard. Many consider this the best iris ever introduced. 50c.
- STANDARD BEARER, Rich claret shade, tall and free blooming. A fine accent for the garden, particularly when a half dozen or more plants are employed. 50c.
- SUNSET, Old gold is the prevailing tone. Very late blooming and handsome. $1.00.
- WHITE KNIGHT, Standards and falls both of pure milk white. 25c.
- ZUA, Lavender, the flowers most distinctive on account of their crinkled texture, like crepe. Early. 75c.

IRIS SIBERICA

The Siberian Irises have slender, rush-like foliage, and look particularly graceful when bordering a pool or stream.

The flowers are daintly constructed and not large, but generously produced. Plant in spring or early fall. Later blooming than the Germanica.

BLUE KING, A deep rich blue. 2 ft. 10c; White, 10c.

DISTINCTION, Light blue, conspicuously veined. The flowers are so handsome and so different from other varieties that they well merit their name. 2½ feet. 25c.

PERRY'S BLUE, Very large for this type of iris, a charming blue, flowers held well above the foliage. 25c.

THE JAPANESE IRISES

These unfold their regal flowers, often 8 to 10 inches across, in July. They range through delicate lavenders to richest purple, some are pure white marked with gold, others are daintily veined with contrasting color. They must have good drainage and sun.

We offer only in high-class mixture as yet; some of the flowers with three petals, others with six, but all attractive in the extreme. 15c.

MISCELLANEOUS IRISES

AUREA, An especially effective sort for use in the border. Does best in rather heavy soil. Large pure yellow flowers. 25c.

IRIS BULLEYANA, Like a glorified Siberian Iris. The flowers are much larger, borne well above the foliage, and of rich blue or purple. Excellent for pool planting though not in the water. 25c.

IRIS CRISTATA, (R) This graceful miniature iris should be established in a position with afternoon shade, and rather light soil. Increases fast and bears delicate lavender flowers in abundance. Very much at home in the rock garden. 25c.

IRIS CRISTATA ALBA, (R) Even lovelier than the preceding. Leaf mould and partial shade bring it to perfection. One of the rarest rock irises. $1.00.

IRIS FOLIOSO, Suited to semi-shaded position, perhaps at the edge of woods, and where there is ample moisture. Foliage not particularly good, but the flowers are exquisite in their delicacy of form and color. A clear pale blue is predominant. 50c.

IRIS FORRESTII, (R) Graceful flowers of clear, pale yellow, narrow, rush-like foliage. Fine for the rock garden. This iris likes full sun and grows 16 inches tall. Rare. 50c.

IRIS HOOKERI, Blue flowers. 18 inches. 50c.

PUMILLA, The dwarfest and earliest of all irises. This sort has rich purple flowers. 6 inches is the height, making the plants particularly fine for rock gardens or bordering taller irises. 10c.

Atroviolacea, Deep purple.

Cyanea, Purple.

Fairy, Light blue.

Florida, Clear yellow.

- LAVANDULA SPICA, Dwarf sort, very fragrant. 15c.
- LAVANDULA VERA (Lavender) What can be more delightful than this occupant of old English gardens, with its sweetly scented flower spikes and association of sentiment? Did you know it makes a fine hedge? 3 feet. Strong plants. 40c. Small plants, 10c.
- LAVANDULA DELPHINENSIS (Lavender) The plant—a rather dwarf form some two feet in height when grown. The fragrance of the flowers is an indescribable mingling of rose and lavender truly delightful. 25c.
- LYCHNIS ALPINA (R) Bright rose flowers and cushions of olive green make this a most attractive rock plant. It is but four inches tall, and blooms in June and July. 15c.
- LYCHNIS LAGASCAE, (R) A pretty little evergreen from the Pyrenees, bright carmine flowers. 3 inches. 25c.
- LEONTOPODIUM ALPINUM, (R) The famed Edelweis of the Alps. A tuft of rather woolly leaves, the flowers white. Not at all difficult to grow in well drained, sunny situation. 25c.
- LEWISIA REDIVIVA, (R) This is the "Bitter Root" of our Cascade Mountains, where it is found in very rocky soil, full sun. Flowers like miniature water lilies of pale or decided pink. The inconspicuous leaves disappear with the flowers, to return another season. A crevice in the rock garden suits it. Plant at least a modest colony. 25c.

LILIES

These are properly planted in the fall. We offer the following sorts and suggest placing your order in the spring, for shipment at just the proper time. Planting a half-dozen or more bulbs in a clump gives best display.

- LILIUM CANDIDUM, Also called Madonna Lily or St. Joseph's Lily. Blooms in early summer. Pure white and highly perfumed. 15c.
- LILIUM ELEGANS, Handsome orange flowers. This variety is exceptionally hardy and prolific. 20c.

- LILIUM PARDALINUM, Orange flowers of graceful shape on rather slender stems. 15c.
- LILIUM REGALE, Handsomest of all hardy lilies. Its long, creamy trumpet with pink shading, its clear yellow throat and delicious fragrance, makes a flower long remembered. Fine bulbs. 10c.
- LILIUM RUBRUM SPECIOSUM. 15c.
- PARDANTHUS CHINENSIS, Blackberry lily. 10c.
- LILIUM TIGRINUM, Old-fashioned, striking tiger lily. A bold clump with proper shrubbery or other background cannot be surpassed. 15c.
- DOUBLE TIGER LILY, orange spotted black, handsome. 15c, $1.50 per dozen.
- MT. HOOD LILY, white. 25c, $2.50 per dozen.
- ORANGE DAY LILY, 15c, $1.50 per dozen.
- CAMASSIA ESCALANTA, blue lily, 2½ feet high, a native, very pretty and scarce. 25c each, $2.50 per dozen.
- LILIUM TEUNEFOLIUM. 15c.
- AMAPHOPHILLIS RIVIERE, black Lily of the Nile, very ornamental. 25c each, $2.50 per dozen.
- LILLIUM HENRI, yellow, tall mammoth, lily, very rare, large bulbs. 50c each, $5.00 per dozen.
- LILY OF THE VALLEY, 75c per dozen.
- LINARIA DALMATICA "The Nymph," NEW. A tremendous advance over the older sort. Like a huge yellow snapdragon. Very free flowering. Inclined to spread when thoroughly established. 40c.
- LINARIA ORGANIFOLIA, (R) Few plants flower more abundantly than this. Clear lavender the color. 6 inches. 25c.
- LINUM CAMPANULATUM, (R) The blue linums are deservedly popular, but have you seen this charming yellow sort? Dwarf (not over 8 inches in height), it blooms all summer. 15c.
- LINUM NARBONENSE, (R) Of angular, picturesque growth, the flowers an exquisite shade of blue. Long blooming. 20c.
- LINUM PERENNE, (R) "The Blue Sky Flower." Dainty foliage and dainty azure flowers throughout the summer give this plant more than ordinary interest. 10c.
- LITHOSPERMUM PROSTRATUM, (R) A trailing evergreen with flowers of intense gentian blue. Well adapted to falling over a wall or draping a large rock. Available as small potted plants only, about May 1. 25c. Larger plants, 75c.
- LIATRIS, gay feather, deep pink. 15c.
- LYTHLRUS, Perennial Pea, all colors; fine for stumps.
- LUNARIA BIENNIS ALBA, Our grandmothers called this "Honesty." Pretty white flowers, followed by ornamental silvery seed pods, much used in winter bouquets. A biennial, but worth while. 2 feet. 10c.
- LUPIN—Downer's English Hybrids, These exhibit lovely pastel shades, as well as more decided blues, pinks, bronze, etc. Sold only in mixed colors. All are handsome. 3 feet. 25c.
- LYHNIS CHALCEDONICA, "Jerusalem Cross" was the old-fashioned name. Few flowers approach its brilliant scarlet. Resembles Sweet William on a smaller scale. 2 feet. 10c.
- LYCHNIS VISCARIA SPLENDENS PLENA, (R) This plant will be noticed in any rock garden, no matter how choice other occupants may be. Clear cerise flowers on 8-inch stems form a perfect mound of arresting color. The plant itself is a low tuft of grassy leaves. Stock limited. 25c.

- MAZUS PUMILIO, (R) Pale violet flowers and light green leaves. The plant is truly a ground cover, rarely exceeding $\frac{1}{2}$ inch in height. 35c.
- MECONOPSIS BAILEYI, From Thibet. A poppy-like flower. Brilliant sky-blue with orange anthers. Likes partial shade. 12 inches tall. Blue poppy. 25c.
- MONTBRITIAS, all colors, mixed. 75c per dozen.
- MOUNTAIN HELIOTROPE, sweet lavender flowers. 10c.
- MYRTLE, large blue, small blue, also white, evergreen creeper. 10c each.
- MICHAELMASS DAISIES, (See Asters).
- MONARDA DIDYMA, "Bergamot" is the popular name of this, and the variety is Cambridge Scarlet. A very showy plant with crimson flowers of fantastic form. Use it as an informal hedge between you and your neighbor. 15c.
- MYOSATIS, Ruth Fisher, ever-blooming, adapted to dry places. 10c.
- MYOSATIS PALUSTRIS SEMPERFLORENCE, moist, shady places. 10c.
- MUSCARI (Grape Hyacinths) (R) These fall-planted bulbs are best set in August or September, and naturalize splendidly under trees (not evergreens, but apple or maple), and are suited to the rock garden as well, where they soon form most satisfying colonies. The brilliant blue flowers make a striking display for some weeks in the spring. The price is 50c per dozen or $2.00 per 100.
- MUSCARI COMOSUM PLUMOSUM (R) (Feather Hyacinth). Rightly named, for the flower is just a delicate mauve plume, often eight inches in length. Don't plant one—plant six at least for real effect. Fall delivery. 2 for 25c.
- NEPETA MUSSINI, (R) Tumbling masses of gray-green foliage as a foil for the clouds of lavender flowers. Nothing more satisfactory for liberal use in the rock garden or border. 10c.
- OENOTHERA MISSOURIENSIS (R) (Evening Primrose of the Prairie). Expands its gorgeous yellow flowers, often five inches in diameter, in late afternoon. Prostrate growth. 25c.
- ORNITHOGALUM UMBELLATUM (R) "Star of Bethlehem." Dainty rock garden subjects with glistening white flowers in early spring. Groups of six to twelve, bulbs should be planted in early fall. A special price to encourage this mass planting. 50 for $1.00.

PAPAYER (Poppies)

- NUDICAULE, "Excelsior Strain" (R) Exhibiting those new pastel shades so much sought in the Iceland poppies. 10c.
- ORIENTALIS PINK, The finest of this color that it has been our good fortune to see. Lasts well in water if cut just as expanding. 10c.
- ORIENTALIS SCARLET, Immense flowers of vivid scarlet. They are often 8 to 10 inches across. Set in early spring or late August. 10c.
- PILOSUM, Good in the large rockery, but probably best in perennial beds, as the plant is very vigorous. Apricot flowers of large size in great abundance. 25c.
- RUPIFRAGUM, (R) A bit of orange silk wafted to American gardens from the Pyrenees Mountains in Spain. 1 foot. Likes hot, dry situation. Always in bloom if not allowed to seed. 25c.

PAPAYER NULICAULE "Tangerine" (R) This lovely Iceland poppy has petals of deep glowing orange, swaying gracefully on slender stems about 12 inches high. Extra fine for either rockery or perennial garden. Blooms all summer. 15c.

PAPAYER ORIENTALIS "Crimson Belle" Dark, immense flowers of rich deep crimson, held on strong stems often four feet tall. Distinctive and new. 25c

PENSTEMON

PENSTEMON MENZIESII—Rupicola, (R) Very dwarf, gray foliage, handsome red flowers. 50c.

PENSTEMON OVATUS DOUGLASI, (R) The plant itself is a low cluster of burnished green leaves; the flowers deep, rich blue, changing to mauve as they age. They are borne in profusion on stems varying from a foot high in their mountain habitat, to perhaps three feet in exceptionally rich garden soil. An exquisite subject for either rock garden or perennial border. Give sunny exposure. Fine blooming size plants. 25c.

PENSTEMON PUBESCENS, (R) Pale pink or blue flowers. A very choice little plant. 6 inches. 25c.

PENSTEMON RATTANI MINOR, (R) Found on Mt. Hood at elevation of 6000 feet. Shining green leaves in pleasantly spreading tufts. Soft blue or mauve flowers. 4 inches. 25c.

PENSTEMON MENZIESII (R) This elegant creeper, with its tiny evergreen leaves and spikes of blue and purple, comes to us from the Cascade Mountains of the Pacific Northwest. June and July its time, 4 to 6 inches its height. 15c.

PENSTEMON SMALLI, A basal tuft of rather large leaves, with a 3-foot stalk supporting dainty bells of white, tinged lavender. 25c.

HARDY FERNS for shady places. 25c.

PEONIES

The quotations are for strong divisions, none with less than three sprouts, many with six or more. Double flowers unless particularly specified as single.

PEONIES—DOUBLE SORTS

ALEXANDER DUMAS, Bright pink and cream shades and the unusually long blooming period of this sort, make it of extraordinary value in the garden. Early. 50c.

BARONESS SCHROEDER, Big globular flower of soft flesh-white. Late mid-season. 50c.

FELIX CROUSSE, Bright red, large and full. Mid-season. 50c.

MARY BRAND, An immense flower of vivid crimson, with a very delightful fragrance. Blooms in clusters. Mid-season. $1.00.

MONSIEUR JULES ELIE, Pale lilac rose, with lighter collar. Early and fine. 50c.

SOLANGE, Compact, globular flower, a combination of white delicately tinged lilac, with flesh and apricot tones toward center. One of the handsomest of all. $2.00.

TRIOMPH de L'EXPOSITION de LILLE, Light shell pink, splashed with violet rose. Mid-season. 50c.

PEONIES—SINGLE, SEMI-DOUBLE AND JAPANESE TYPES.

These blooms lend themselves to most artistic cut-flower arrangements, and are equally admired on the plants.

AMA NO SODE, Bright rose pink, merging into lighter tone at margin. A very large flower. One of the very finest Japanese peonies. $2.00.

GYPSY (Japanese) Dark Tyrian rose. A large loose, artistic flower. Mid-season. $1.00.

GOLDMINE, A beautiful deep rose Japanese peony, with center of rich gold. $1.00.

MIKADO, Crimson petals surround a mound of golden petaloids. Very large. Japanese, of course. $1.00.

PRIDE OF LANGPORT, An exquisite single pink, brilliant yet soft in color. $1.50.

YESO, An attractive white flower, sometimes tinged pink. Japanese. $1.00.

FUYAJO (Japan) Dark maroon with velvety sheen. Two rows of guard petals. Conspicuous petaloids striped crimson and white. $3.00.

WE HAVE OTHER PEONIES

Perhaps but a few of some of the choicer sorts, but decidedly worth seeing at blooming time, to make selection for your own garden. Early June in normal seasons.

PERUVIAN LILY (See Alstromeria)

PHLOX DECUSSATA (Hardy Phloxes)

Phloxes were always an important feature of old-fashioned gardens, and they're equally indispensable now. No other perennial is quite so valuable for mid-summer flower masses, and the plants thrive equally in full sun or half shade. They like rich soil. If possible, plant at least a half dozen of one sort, for massing is essential to get the finest effect. Most of them are pleasingly fragrant.

BEACON, This does illuminate the garden—a gorgeous shade of red. 15c.

COMMANDER, Brilliant cherry red, massive trusses, long blooming period, Medium height. NEW. 15c.

EUROPA, White flowers with distinct red eye. Visitors often compare it to old-fashioned calico. Tall. 15c.

MILLY VON HOBOKEN, The largest, handsomest, daintiest pink in our gardens to date. 15c.

MRS. JENKINS, Late blooming, fine white. 10c.

MRS. W. E. FRYER, Pure white, extra large truss of flowers. 10c.

MISS LINGARD, Extra early white, often blooming several times a season. 15c.

ORANGE SCARLET, A dozen of these would arrest attention in any border. The color is dazzling. 25c.

PANTHEON. Deep true pink. Immense flowers and truss. Best of all for garden effect. 15c.

THE PRESIDENT, One of the fine pale pinks. 15c.

W. C. EGAN, Pink, decided yet delicate. 15c.

ALPINE AND ROCK GARDEN PHLOXES

- PHLOX ADSURGENS, (R) Oregon is proud to claim this as a native of its picturesque mountains. Glossy foliage, lovely pink flowers in wonderful profusion. Height varies from 3 to 6 inches. 15c.
- PHLOX AMOENA, (R) Only 4 inches high, suited to rockery or the garden. Bright pink, flowers entirely cover the plant in late spring. In our own beds it gave a secondary blooming, attracting much attention from October until middle of December. 15c.
- PHLOX COERULEA, (R) Trailing. Bright blue flowers especially fine to combine with pink or lavender Phlox Subulata. 15c.
- PHLOX DIVARICATA CANADENSIS, (R) Large flowers of old blue. Appreciates a little shade. 8 inches. 25c.
- PHLOX SUBULATA "Moss Pink" (R) A trailing plant which soon forms a mat of bright green, changing to a solid rug of color when in flower. Lilac—especially good. 10c; Pink, 10c; White, 30c.
- PHLOX SUBULATA "Vivid" (R) Brilliant rose pink, blooms several weeks later than others. Does not spread. Extra choice 25c.
- PHLOX SUBULATA "Fairy" (R) Each delicate flower is pale blue with a dark purple eye. Desirable both for this unusual coloring and the very compact growth of the plant. A fine companion for Phlox Vivid. 15c.

PHYSOSTEGIA, Like a huge heather. Blooms in mid-summer and is valuable for cutting. 3 feet. There are two sorts, Soft lavender pink. 10c.

PHYSOSTEGIA VIRGINICA "Vivid" Deep rose colored spikes which appear in late summer when the perennial border is very bare. They look well for six weeks. Splendid cutting material. An excellent harmony with Japanese Anemone "Queen Charlotte" 15c.

PHYTEUMA WAGNERI, (R) Crowded heads of blue flowers. Sun and a gritty soil suit phyteumas. Another rare plant. 35c.

PLUMBAGO LARPENTAE (Syn Ceratostigma Plumbaginoides) (R) Said to have been discovered on the walls of Pekin, this Chinese plant is invaluable in the rock garden, as it introduces a note of intense blue in the fall, when that color is scarce indeed. Fine autumn foliage. 35c.

POLEMONIUM HUMILE (R) A true Alpine with pale blue flowers on stems a few inches in height. 30c.

POLEMONIUM REPTANS, (R) Fern-shaped leaves, and qualities of delicate blue bells in May. 8 inches. Use it as an edging or in the rock garden. 25c.

POLYGONUM VACCINIIFOLIUM, (R) A rare prostrate shrub from the high Himalayas. Once established, the spikes of small pink flowers are freely produced. It is ideal for falling over a wall. Fine autumn tints. A very few plants at 75c.

POPPIES (See Papaver)

POTENTILLAS

ALPINA (R) Handsome, small foliage, yellow flowers. 4 inches tall. 15c.

CINEREA, (R) A little gem, but an inch high, with lovely yellow flowers. 15c.

POTENTILLA NEPALENSIS "Roxana" (R) An English novelty of the very highest merit. Large single flowers of an arresting orange-pink are produced throughout the summer on vigorous plants which attain a height of 18 inches and a spread of 2 ft. or more. 15c.

NEPHALENSIS WILLMOTTIAE, (R) Robust sort growing 18 inches tall, flowers cerise and remarkable for being produced all summer. 10c.

HARDY PRIMULAS (Primroses)

These prefer half-shaded situations. All are suited to the rock garden. Japonica and Pulverulenta require moist situations.

AURICULA (Swiss Primrose) (R) Glossy leaves of leathery texture serve as a base for the numerous flower stems on well-established plants. A great variety of rich, velvety colors, usually with contrasting throats. 15c.

BULLEYANA, (R) Rich apricot yellow, on whorled spikes. 2 feet. 15c.

CASHMERIANA, Globular flower-heads of dark lilac, borne on stems from 6 inches to 1 foot. 15c.

DENTICULATA, A vigorous sort with round heads of flowers ranging from pale lavender to deep purple. 1 foot. 15c.

LORD BEACONSFIELD (Polyanthus) Clear yellow of especially strong growth, and unrivalled for a spring border. 10c.

RARE PRIMULAS AND NEW

PRIMULA AURANTACA, (R) The rarest sort we offer. With a moist situation its orange blooms in whorls on a 12-inch stem, are exquisite. Shade. 75c.

PRIMULA BEESIANA, (R) A bog primrose, splendid for shady pool margin. Velvety purple flowers with yellow eyes appear in whorls. Often two feet high if suited with situation. 25c.

PRIMULA CORTUSOIDES, (R) Daintiness is the characteristic of this Siberian visitor to our gardens. Deep rose flowers held airily on 12-inch stems. Heart shaped, wrinkled leaves. Sun. 25c.

PRIMULA FRONDOSA, (R) Flowers of pleasing rose shade in rather late spring. Foliage of well grown plants is arched, reminding one of fern fronds, and has a mealy over-layer. Light shade and good drainage. Flower stems 12 to 18 inches. 35c.

PRIMULA, "Ipswich Hybrids" (R) From the most delicate pastel shades to bright pink, rose and almost a burnt orange, a collection of these charming primroses is something to remember. They're at their best in bog condition in light shade. The whorled flower stems rising as high as two feet. Mixed shades only. 30c.

PRIMULA JULIAE, (R) Given a cool, rich soil, in light shade, this beautiful primrose will produce its red-purple flowers (intensified by yellow centers) for many weeks in the spring. Extra. 50c.

PRIMULA MARGINATA, (R) A rare beauty for the discriminating grower. The toothed leaves are gray edged with white, and form a handsome rosette. Trusses of lavender-blue. Fragrant. Likes sun and lime. 4 to 6 inches. 25c.

PRIMULA VEITCHII, (R) Have you a shady place for a primrose aristocrat? Tiers of dark violet-magenta flowers, brightened by yellow centers, and unusual lobed leaves, make this sort an acquisition. 8 inches. 25c.

JAPONICA "Aetna", NEW. Bold growing like the rest of the family, the flowers are a most unusual shade of orange red. 25c.

- JAPONICA ALBA, (R) This means flowers of light shades, not necessarily white. Imposing two-foot stems carry them. 10c.
- JAPONICA ROSEA, (R) Very strong growing. Flowers of varying shades of pink and rose are borne in whorls on 2-foot stems. 15c.
- PULVERULENTA, Of most amiable disposition and imposing appearance. With ample moisture and rich ground it grows two to three feet tall. The flowers of soft rich red are borne in successive whorls. 25c.
- VULGARIS CAERULEA, Rich shades of BLUE, with contrasting eye. These are always admired but seldom seen. 25c.
- VULGARIS, (English) (R) In varying shades of yellow, rich red, maroon, etc., many showing distinct eyes of contrasting color. Nothing could be prettier in early spring than a generous border of these flowers. 10c.
- VULGARIS DOUBLE LAVENDER, (R) Exquisite very double flowers borne in greatest profusion when the plant is established. The stock of these is very limited. 25c.
- VULGARIS DOUBLE WHITE, (R) 50c.
- PRUNELLA WEBBIANA, (R) These make charming little mounds of color 6 inches high, ranging from pale rose to deep purple. 20c.
- PULMONARIA ANGUSTIFOLIA AZUREA, (R) In early spring, when the white Arabis is out, this Pulmonaria opens its flowers of gentian blue. It is exquisite and rare. 6 inches. Light shades. 25c.
- PULMONARIA SACCHARATA, (R) Must have a moist location, and some shade. Large green leaves effectively blotched with white. Flowers blue through mauve to pink. 1 foot. 30c.
- PYRETHRUM, "Persian Daisy." The flowers are supported on 2-foot stems and appear about Decoration Day. They last exceedingly well. In mixture of white, pink and red. 10c; Splendid imported double types. 20c.
- ROMANZOFFIANA SITCHENSIS, (R) A very little white flower with a very big name. You'll like it. 20c.
- RUDBECKIA PURPUREA, Big rose-colored daisies with a large brown central cone. Unique and decorative, 4 feet. 10c.
- RUDBECKIA FULGIDA, One of the Black-eyed Susans, but this one blooms throughout the summer, and is most effective where a brilliant yellow flower can be used. 2 feet. 10c.
- RUDBECKIA TRILOBA, Small, vivid orange flowers with black cone centers, make this plant the most arresting feature of the late summer and fall garden. A biennial, but indispensable. 10c.
- RUDBECKIA, Golden yellow. 10c.

SALVIAS (Perennial)

- AZUREA, True azure blue flowers, on airy stems 3 feet tall, make this a decided addition to the autumn display. 15c.
- FARINACEA, Many regard this as the handsomest of the salvias, the color of the flower spikes (and this extends down the stems) is old blue with silver overlay. Blooms from August until frost. 15c.
- GLOBOSO, White flowers, boldly arranged, convert the plant into a bush of snow in early summer. 3 feet. 20c.

PRATENSIS, (R) Dwarf, rarely exceeding a foot, with rose or purple flowers. 25c.

SALVIA PITCHERII, This is one of the real glories of fall, remarkable for the rich ultra-marine blue of its flowers. Plant is branching form, admirable for the border. Height, 3 feet. 35c.

AEIZOON ROSEA, ENCRUSTED, Rose pink flowers are a pleasing variation from most of the Aeizoon class. 15c.

APICULATA (Kabschia Section), (R) True. Cold winds have no terrors for the yellow flowers, one of the first spring tokens of the rock garden. The leaves form an attractive spiny rosette. Rare. 30c.

"BEAUTY OF RONSDORF," Mossy. Mounds of bright green are practically obscured by the deep red flowers in early spring. Light shade. 20c.

HOSTII and PORTII, ENCRUSTED, Are also offered at 15c.

MACNABIANA, ENCRUSTED, 15-inch stems with white flowers. Autumn foliage shows handsome tints. 15c.

MEGESEA, Broad leaved and evergreen, umbels of soft rose flowers in very early spring. Half shade. Small, 15c; Large, 35c.

MOSSY SAXIFRAGE, Pink. The green rosettes are very ornamental, the pink flowers a finishing touch. Light shade. 10c.

Yes, there is a WHITE form also, at same price.

MOSSY SAXIFRAGE — Decipiens Rosea, Makes fine compact clumps. Pink flowers. 30c.

MOSSY SAXIFRAGE HIPNOIDES, Especially luxuriant mound of green and a mist of white flowers in mid-summer. One of most satisfactory of all for shade. 15c.

PYRAMIDALIS, ENCRUSTED, The finest of this class. Two foot flower stems bearing hundreds of tiny white blooms. 15c.

UMBROSA, The rosettes of fleshy green leaves, much-branched red stems terminating in pink blossoms, make a most attractive sight. Requires considerable shade. 10c.

SCABIOSA COLUMBARIA, A great improvement on the well-known Caucasica. The plant is compact and covered throughout the entire summer with lavender flowers tinged mauve. Particularly fine for cutting. 2 feet. 15c.

SCILLA CAMPANULATA, (R) The strain offered bears spikes a foot in length, gracefully bedecked with drooping bells. They naturalize perfectly and should be planted by the hundred if space permits. Plant these bulbs in early September.

Mixed blue and white, per dozen 50c.

Mixed blue, white and pink, per dozen 60c.

(The pink is charming and rarely seen—available only in this mixture, which is a real color harmony.)

SCILLA ITALICA, (R) A less fastidious or a more lovely spring flowering bulb would be difficult to find. Plant in sun or shade, rock garden woods or border and enjoy its sky-blue flowers on fragile 4-inch stems. (Don't plant less than 12.) 3 for 25c.

SEDUMNS (R)

These plants have fleshy leaves, are mostly evergreens, and thrive in well-drained, sunny places, making effective subjects for the rock garden, and the more robust growers are fine ground covers.

ACRE "Golden Moss," Bright green foliage, and equally brilliant yellow flowers, Creeping. 10c.

ALBUM, Vividly green, at blooming time sprinkled with white stars. Will crowd out choicer small plants, so place accordingly. 3 inches tall. 10c.

ARBOREUM, A bushy sort some 9 inches tall. Blush flowers. 10c.

DASYPHYLLUM, Glaucous, bead-like foliage, pinkish-white flowers. 2 inches. 10c.

FABARIA, Large flowered. Rose. 15c.

HISPANICUM, One of the loveliest, with its bluish-gray mats of foliage. Creamy blossoms. 10c.

SEDUM SPECTABILIS VARIEGATUM (R) This strikingly variegated form makes impressive specimens, and heads of deep rose flowers are thrown in for good measure. 15 inches. 15c.

KAMTSCHATICUM, 4 or 5 inch stems clothed with cheerful green foliage, are topped with orange flowers. 10c.

KAMTSCHATICUM VARIEGATUM, The foliage pleasingly varied with white. 15c.

PRUNIATUM FORSTERIANUM, Golden yellow flowers, trailing habit. 10c.

REFLEXUM, Vigorous trailing growth. Yellow flowers. Sun or light shade. 20c.

REFLEXUM, "Cristatum" "The Cockscomb Sedum." An unusual thickening and flattening of the stems gives this a grotesque cockscomb appearance. 25c.

REPESIANA, Upright growth, very attractive. 9 inches tall. 15c.

RUPESTRE, A British species with bright yellow flowers. 10c.

SARMENTOSUM, A light green sort from China. Creeping. Pale yellow flowers. 10c.

SEXANGULARE, Gives an impression of slenderness and grace. 3 inches. 15c.

"SILVER" Unidentified but mighty good looking just the same. A little on order of Hispanicum, but very distinct and stiffer growth. 25c.

SPECTABILIS, The huge heads of soft rose colored bloom completely cover the plant. Its height of one foot fits it to the bolder positions in the rockery. 15c.

SPECTABILIS, "Brilliant" Like the preceding; but deeper in tone. A wonderful harmonious combination when used with Anemone Huphensis. 25c.

SPURIUM COCCINEUM, Crimson flowers in July and August. Foliage assumes reddish tones in autumn. 15c.

STAHLI, Vivid green in midsummer, generously touched with bright red. 3 inches. 15c.

STONIFERA, Flower lavender-pink, leaves noticeably flat. 6 inches. 15c.

SEMPERVIVUMS (R)

All have rosettes of succulent foliage, from which spring rather fantastic spikes of flowers.

ARACHNOIDES, (R) "The Cob-web Houseleek." A conspicuous silvery web envelopes the plant. 10c.

BROWNII, (R) Yellow flowers. 5 inches. 10c.

GLAUCUM, (R) The rosettes are freshing light green, the flowers pink. 15c.

MONTANUM, (R) Dull red flowers, makes mat of tiny, low rosettes. 15c.

SEMPERVIVUMS, (R) "House Leeks," "Hen and Chickens." All the sempervivums like full sun and perfect drainage, and then they reward you by increasing with charming abandon. Try them in the wall. 15c.

Greenii, Prim medium rosettes of bright green. 15c.

Fimbriatum, Distinctively fringed rosettes, deep pink flowers. 15c.

Lamottii, Medium sized rosettes with glaucous sheen. 15c.

Laggeri, One of the handsomest cob-webbed varieties, quite different from Arachnoides. 15c.

SILENES (R)

These are very numerous and varied. All are of easy culture, and admirable for the rock garden, though Silene Acaulis is a shy bloomer in most gardens.

ACAULIS, "The Cushion Pink" of the Alps. A mound of light green 2 inches in height, studded with bright pink flowers. 20c.

CARMANICA, A novelty for the rock garden with red flowers. 25c.

MARITIMA, White flowers of quaint appearance, glaucous foliage. Blooming period long. 4 inches. 15c.

SAXIFRAGA, Neat bushy little plants, perhaps a foot across and 8 inches high. White flowers. 15c.

SCHAFTA, Lovely subject for the rockery or border. The habit is trailing, the flowers a soft purplish-rose, and they come in late summer. 10c.

SISYRINCHIUM IRIDIFOLIUM (Satin Flower), (R) The plant itself looks exactly like an iris, but the flowers are distinct, in color cream with purple striping. A decided novelty for a semi-shaded spot. 25c.

SPIREA FILIPENDULA HEXAPETALA, (R) Finely cut foliage with clusters of pretty creamy flowers on 15-inch stems. 25c.

SPIREA FILIPENDULA ULMARIA PLENA, Fern-like foliage, very good in itself, and in addition tall sprays of small white flowers. 2 feet. A very uncommon plant. 35c.

STACHYS CILIATA, (R) Bright green leaves variegated with white. The plant soon forms a nice clump and is particularly adapted to shady places. Lavender flowers. 25c.

- STACHYS CORSICA, (R) A rare little carpeting plant, with tiny mimulus-like flowers of blush-white. Only 2 inches tall. 15c.
- STIPA BULBOSA, (R) A little like the old ribbon grass which ran rampant through the orchard, but this one springs from tiny bulbs, does not spread, has smaller leaves and is altogether more desirable. 25c.
- STOKESIA CYANEA, Large aster-like flowers of lavender-blue, generously produced. 15c.
- SWEET WILLIAM "Pink Beauty," That watermelon shade that everyone wants. 10c.
- SYNTHYRIS RENIFORMIS, (R) A showy sort with 3 or 4-inch spikes of blue in profusion. Well adapted to naturalizing in the light shade of woods. 35c.
- SYNTHYRIS ROTUNDIFOLIA, (R) A dainty midget for shaded portions of the rock garden or naturalizing in woods. Lavender flowers appear in very early spring. 3 inches. At its best in colonies of 10 to 50 plants. 15c.
- TEUCRIUM CHAMAEDRYS, (R) Spreading habit, grey foliage. 6 inches tall. Reddish purple flowers in summer. 35c.
- TEUCRIUM FLAVUM, An unusual plant. Hardy only in milder sections. Yellow flowers. 2 feet. 40c.
- THALICTRUM ADIANTIFOLIUM, The leaves are just like a fine maidenhair fern, with one important difference—when cut for bouquets they last several days in perfect condition. The flower is inconspicuous. 2-year plants. 15c.
- THALICTRUM AQUILEGIFOLIUM, Feathery lavender flowers in June and July. Like half shade. 5 feet. 15c.
- THALICTRUM DIPTEROCARPUM, Small lavender flowers arranged in a perfect shower on very tall and much branched stems. A well-grown plant will attain a height of 6 feet. A sensation wherever shown. 1 year plants. 15c.

THYMUS (Thyme)

Deliciously aromatic foliage is a feature of most of these. But they have good looks to recommend them besides. A sunny spot for them, please.

- ALBUS, (R) Creeping stems and tiny foliage, white flowers. 10c.
- AZORICUS (R) Rare creeping sort. 25c.
- CITRIODORUS ARGENTEIS, (R) Silver leaved. 8 inches. 10c.
- CITRIODORUS AUREIS, (R) Golden leaved. 8 inches tall. 10c.
- LANUGINOSUS, (R) Woolly leaved thyme, especially fine to fall over a dry wall. Trailing. 10c.
- SERPHYLLUM, (R) Trailing, with pinkish-lavender flowers. 10c.
- SERPHYLLUM ALBUS, (R) Same, with white flowers. 10c.
- SERPHYLLUM COCCINEUS, (R) With crimson-purple flowers. 10c.

TRADESCANTIA VIRGINICA Sometimes called spider lily. Is most at home in moist ground and with some shade. Under these circumstances a free bloomer. The variety offered has deep blue flowers. 15 inches. 25c.

TRITOMA HYBRIDA ELEGANS MULTI-COLOR, The last word in these gorgeous flowers. The handsome spikes range in color from cream through rose, salmon and orange to red. They are rather dwarf, rarely reaching even 3 feet in height. 35c.

TRITOMA—STRAW COLOR, Not a named sort, but many will like this lovely color for combinations where the orange or scarlet might not fit. 35c.

TRITOMA, red. 10c.

TUNICA SAXIFRAGA, (R) A splendid filler and softener for the rock garden. The low clump of grassy foliage is quite obscured by the cloud of pale-pink flowers resembling a miniature "baby-breath. Blooms all summer. Use generously. 10c.

TROLLEUS, Orange Globe. 25c.

VERONICAS

The veronicas include some of the most delightful blues found in the garden. They are easily grown.

BACHHOFENI, One of the very handsomest of this very large family. The azure flowers are arranged on loose spikes which grow from 18 inches to 2 feet tall. 15c.

CORYMBOSA STRICTA, (R) Dense heads of dark blue. 9 inches. 15c.

ELEGANTISSIMA, Beautiful rose flowers. 10c.

GENTIANOIDES, (R) Pale blue flowers in early summer. 18 inches. 10c.

INCANA, (R) Silvery foliage, deep blue flowers. 8 inches. 10c.

PINNATA, Finely divided, dainty leaves, with flowers of pale blue. Erect habit. 2 feet. 25c.

PRENJA, (R) This is seldom catalogued in America, but is a charming plant for rockery or perennial border. 9 inches. Soft blue is the color. Blooms with the irises and is a fine foreground for them. 15c.

REPENS, (R) Only an inch tall, starred with azure blue flowers. 10c.

"ROYAL BLUE" (R) Grows a foot tall and bears gentian blue flowers. 15c.

RUPESTRIS, (R) A gem, with evergreen trailing foliage, and charming blue flowers in the utmost profusion. 10c.

RUPESTRIS ROSEA, (R) A pale pink form of the well-known Rupestris, which will be a real novelty in most rock gardens. 15c.

SAXATILIS, (R) Mats of evergreen foliage, with intense blue flowers in the spring. 2 inches. 25c.

SPICATA, Blue flowers of varying shades. 12 to 20 inches. 15c.

SPICATA ALBA, (R) 9-in. spikes of snowy white. 20c.

SPICATA ROSEA, (R) Spikes of rose flowers, 1 foot tall. 15c.

TRUE BLUE, The most intense color of any veronica in our gardens. A rich gentian blue. The plant is slow to increase. 9 inches. 20c.

VENOSA, Hardy Verbinia, purple. 10c.

VIOLA GRACILIS—"G. WERMIG" (R) Deep purple, in form and color a close approach to the true violet. The plant soon forms a broad mat and blooms prodigally for six months of the year if the withered flowers are sheared. Unequalled for rich bedding effects, bordering a walk or drive. 10c.

VIOLA, Apricot. 10c.

VIOLA, Bronze Queen. 10c.

VIOLA JERSEY GEM, (R) Probably more widely planted than any other viola, and deservedly, for its rich purple color and persistent blooming period make it very desirable. 10c.

VIOLA JERSEY JEWEL, (R) Do not confuse this with Jersey Gem, as the Jewel is a later and finer introduction by the same originator. Huge violet-shaped flowers of the richest purple, a subtle shade that is most striking for garden or bedding display. Flowers for months at a time. Sun—or a little shade. 15c.

VIOLET, Princess of Wales, large. 75c per dozen.

VIOLET, Swanley, white. 75c per dozen.

SEEDS

Such persistent inquiry has come for seeds that we are offering the following choice assortment. All are fresh gathered from our gardens this past season, and should give fine results. No guarantee whatever is given, however, as care is the secret of success with seeds and that is manifestly beyond our control. Occasional failures must be expected, too, by even the most experienced.

All should be started under glass or indoors. An excellent soil to use is a good garden loam with about a third sand. As soon as plants are large enough, transplant and shade until established. Refer to any book on gardening for more detailed instructions.

A uniform price per packet is quoted. A generous quantity of seeds is included in the commoner and more prolific kinds, comparatively few to the packet in the rare sorts.

The price, 20 CENTS PER PACKET; SIX FOR $1.00.
